OBSERVATIONS

The Rif Mountains can be quite cold during the Winter, reaching low temperatures like 2/3°C in the Months of January and February.

It is recommended that you bring appropriate clothing for cold weather and also appropriate shoes for hiking and mountainous terrain.

The already harvested Cannabis plants have been stored until this time, to make the finest cream.

Traditionally, January and February are the best months of the Year to make Hashish, as the resin glands in the dried Cannabis plants turn from resin into crystal form, therefore making it easier to extract the crystals, without having to work the plants too much, which leads to a caviar type quality of refined hashish with very little plant material residue.

The Winter Season is the Season for Hash Lovers and Hash Makers, which one are you?
